Coverage of Greenspan Monetary Policy Testimony

Reporters are advised that the House Financial Services Committee will convene at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday February 28 in Room 2128 Rayburn House Office Building to hear monetary policy testimony from Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan.

We anticipate that seating/standing room will be quite limited. Reporters are encouraged to contact the appropriate media gallery about reservations.

The Committee overflow room, 2222 Rayburn, will be available for viewing Greenspan's testimony and Members' questions.

We will issue more information Monday regarding the availability of the Greenspan testimony prior to the hearing. Both Chairman Oxley's opening statement and Chairman Greenspan's written testimony will be embargoed for the 9:30 a.m. start.
